Seized by U. S.
Coast Guard in Arms-Laden Ship

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Thirty-six Cuban rebels threatened today to "starve to death" in jail if necessary to protest the federal scuttling of their heavily armed expeditionary force.

The men, mostly American citizens and New York residents, were captured by the U. S. Coast Guard Thursday as they failed in a 70-foot chartered freighter to join the guerrilla warfare led by Fidel Castro against Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista.

A Coast Guard cutter rammed the arms-laden vessel to capture the revolutionaries and four Nicaraguan crew members.

The men began their hunger strike at the evening meal Thursday night. They filed into the Cameron County jail dining room in orderly fashion but refused to touch their food. The Nicaraguans ate.

A spokesman said the warriors would not "eat for a week or month, however long we are in jail, even if we starve to death."

Unless they post bond, they are likely to remain in jail until May 11, the next scheduled meeting date of the federal grand jury. The revolutionaries include a doctor and a Pentecostal preacher who is chaplain of the force.

Bond was set at $7,500 for all but one member of the group. He was Antonio del Conde, Mexico City, who was charged with primary responsibility for the purchase of the rebel arsenal and the charter of their warship. His bail was set at $15,000.

Arnold G. Barron, 35, New York, leader of the group, said he had flown to Mexico City in February to make final arrangements for the expedition.

The rebels were wearing U. S. Army fatigues with red and black armbands carrying the white letters: "July 26." Some had steel helmets. The date is that on which, in 1953, Castro led his first abortive attempt at revolution against the Batista government.

The rebels' arsenal, worth $26,000, according to Barron, included two .60 millimeter mortars, one .50-caliber machine gun, four .30-caliber machine guns, six or seven .45 caliber pistols, four M2 rifles, nine Springfield rifles and 15 or 17 M1 carbines, all U. S. issue.

18 Killed In Aerial Collision Of Two Planes

Globemaster, Flying
Boxcar Collide Over
Bridgeport, Texas

BRIDGEPORT, Texas (AP)—Investigators seeking the cause of an aerial collision that killed 18 men said today the crash might never have occurred if the weather had been worse.

They said the pilots of an Air Force C124 Globemaster and C199 Flying Boxcar that collided late Thursday apparently were flying visually. Minimum visibility at the time, despite light fog, was reported as five miles — not enough to require flying by instruments.

When visibility is three miles or less, all aircraft are required to fly on instruments. The Fort Worth weather bureau said they also are assigned a specific altitude at which to fly so as to prevent a collision.

Why the planes crashed was a mystery. There were no survivors among the 15 men aboard the Globemaster from Hill Air Force Base, Utah, or the three aboard the Flying Boxcar from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex. Five passengers on the C124 were hitchhikers — two sailors, two Army men and an airman, Col. D. L. Beard who headed the investigators, reported.

All 18 bodies were found by midnight Thursday night. The two planes collided over Bridgeport in the late afternoon. The C199 appeared to hesitate momentarily at the impact. Then it plunged straight down and crashed 100 yards from W. J. Mann, who was plowing in a field.

The crash was felt all over Bridgeport, a town of about 2,000 persons in north central Texas. The C199 fell on the outskirts of the town, about two miles from the C124 wreckage.

Big Response to First Day of Harrisburg Days

First day response to the "Harrisburg Days Easter Parade" yesterday was so great that an extra order of blanks for the free prize drawings had to be made today.

Three big prizes are being given — one each day for three days.

Yesterday's winner was Mary Lou Wynn of Carterville, who was up town for the big sales event. She was awarded a spring wardrobe, quite a fancy prize.

Today there will be another registration at all participating stores for a choice of a month's supply of groceries or a diamond ring, the drawing to be at 5 p. m. At 5 p. m. tomorrow there will be a drawing for a heifer. The public is reminded that there is no obligation whatsoever for registering for the drawings, but there is a new registration each day for the prize to be given away at the close of business.

The "Harrisburg Days Easter Parade" is a co-operative event sponsored by local merchants and they have cut prices drastically to make the sales days a success.

Gilmore was en route to Abraham Lincoln hospital here to visit his wife, Helen, and the couple's infant son.

Traveling with Gilmore were his sister, Miss Edith Gilmore, and another son.

New Suit Under Dram Shop Act Asks $100,000

A second lawsuit under the provisions of the Illinois Dram Shop Act—which asks a total of $100,000 damages from Gallatin county tavern operators—has been filed in connection with a tragic motor vehicle accident on U. S. 45 north of Harrisburg last June 27.

Asking for judgments in a complaint filed for them by Atty. D. F. Rumsey of Harrisburg are: Sybil Lasseter, who asks $60,000 for herself and two daughters in the death of her husband, Marion Lasseter; Mildred Moore, who asks $20,000 for injuries suffered by her son, Joe Allen Moore; and Maynard Cannon, who seeks $20,000 for injuries to his son, Edwin Earl Cannon.

Named defendants are Joe Gene and Madge Gene, operators of Gene's tavern in Old Shawneetown; Robert L. Logsdon, operator of Logsdon's tavern in Old Shawneetown; and Dale Kane and Beulah Gossett, operators of the Broadway Inn in Shawneetown.

The complaint charges Earl Brown, driver of the auto which figured in a collision with Mr. Lasseter's station wagon, had secured intoxicating liquor at the three taverns on the day of the crash and had consumed it, becoming intoxicated. While intoxicated, the complaint charges, he drove his auto into the lane of the Lasseter machine and the crash resulted. Brown was alone in his car, Lasseter and a group of his Sunday school pupils were in the station wagon. Brown was fatally injured.

Several days ago a similar lawsuit was filed for Norman Taylor in behalf of his son, Robert, who received injuries in this same crash. This complaint, which named the same defendants and asked for $20,000 damages under the provisions of the dram shop act, was filed for Mr. Taylor by Atty. Jack Morris of Eldorado and Atty. R. W. Harris of Marion.

Passed by 84-4 Vote

Senate Sends Highway Bill to House for Pre-Easter Action

WASHINGTON (AP)—Overwhelming Senate approval sent an anti-recession highway bill to the House today where leaders mapped a short cut to put it into effect by Easter.

The measure, designed to create thousands of new jobs by pumping $5,500,000,000 into road construction over the next two years, sailed through the Senate late Thursday by an 84-4 roll call vote.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hopes the bill will go to the White House by April 3, when Congress starts its Easter recess. Johnson called it "one of the most important anti-recession measures we could pass." He said it has a "potential" of more than 500,000 jobs.

Today's Action Uncertain Before passage, the Senate substituted its completed bill for a House-approved two-billion-dollar highway measure. That cleared the way for a Senate-House conference on the two bills that could shortcut House consideration of new Senate provisions.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas has said he favors that course. The speaker hopes conferees can approve a bill in time for passage before the congressional recess.

It was uncertain whether the House would act on the Senate bill today. If it does, one member by his single objection could block action. In that case, the Rules Committee could meet Monday to send the legislation to conference. The measure would speed building of the 41,000-mile interstate highway system. In addition it would rush building of primary, secondary and urban roads — the so-called A-B-C roads system. More Than Planned

It was the Senate's second major legislative move to help end the business slump. Only last week, it passed a $1,850,000,000 housing bill designed to create up to 500,000 jobs.

The total $5,500,000,000 outlay in federal and state highway funds was about $1,800,000,000 more than was originally planned for road construction before the recession provoked demands for emergency government action.

Other provisions would authorize an additional federal-state expenditure of 222 million dollars for the interstate highway system in the 1959 fiscal year and of $2,750,000,000 in the 1960 fiscal year. The cost of the contemplated interstate network would be shared on a 90 per cent federal and 10 per cent state basis.

The bill also would authorize a combined federal-state outlay of $71 million dollars for improving primary, secondary and rural roads in the 1959 fiscal year and $1,800,000,000 for these roads in the 1960 fiscal year.

Mud Slide Covers Highway

By United Press A section of the Pacific Coast Highway near Los Angeles lay under 2 feet of mud and rocks today in the wake of a massive dirt slide triggered by heavy rains. The rain storm in southern California Thursday dumped about one-half inch of water in the Los Angeles area boosting total precipitation there for the season to 10 inches above the total for a like period last year.

The rain loosened tons of dirt from the Pacific Palisades and sent it cascading down the cliffs and across the four-lane highway. No one was killed in the slide but one motorist, Forrest Boniface, 42, who was injured when the sea of mud hit his car, said "It just picked us up and floated us along its crest."

Protests Income Now at Lowest Point in 15 Years

House Group Approves
$3.2 Billion
Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today rejected an administration attempt to economize on the farm program. It protested angrily that farm income has dropped "to the lowest point in 15 years."

The committee took this stand in approving a $3,216,988,549 agriculture appropriation bill. Although the measure carried in direct cash $103,900,000 less than the President requested on balance it actually would provide for considerably more spending on farm programs in the future than the President proposed.

More than offsetting the reduction in direct cash were budget increases totaling $368,500,000 for authorized outlays on next year's conservation subsidies, purchase of surplus perishable foods and lending authority for farm electrification, telephone service and credit programs.

The committee, for example, recommended that Congress commit itself—by advance authorization—to put up 250 million dollars in cash next year to continue the agricultural conservation program at present levels. The administration had recommended the advance authorization for the 1959 program be cut to 125 million dollars.

Under this program farmers are paid part of the out-of-pocket costs of approved conservation practices. The Agriculture Department had proposed to cut down the program by eliminating payments for construction of irrigation ponds and a number of other practices. The committee said the present program should be continued.

All but $3,900,000 of the reduction in cash appropriations was in funds which the committee figured wouldn't be spent, anyway. It cut by 10 million dollars cash for the long-range agricultural conservation program, noting that fewer farmers were signing up for these subsidies than anticipated. If more sign up, the committee promised, Congress would later provide all the needed funds.

In a report accompanying the measure, the committee came up with its own prescription for curing the recession—higher farm price supports instead of the lower ones being put into force by the administration this year.

Urges Reciprocal Trade

Eisenhower Charges Foes of Trade Plan Would Subject Nation to 'Deadly Peril'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told Congress bluntly Thursday night it would jeopardize the jobs of 4,500,000 Americans and put the nation in "deadly peril" if it cripples the reciprocal trade program.

In one of his toughest speeches in recent years, the President said erection of new trade barriers would drive free nations to trade with the Communist world and lead to "a diminishing America — isolated, encircled and at bay in a world made over in the image of an alien philosophy."

Voicing doubt anyone who had "on his conscience full knowledge of such grave hazards would favor tearing down the U. S. trade program, the President intimated the voters might reject at the polls those who vote to "kill or cripple" the reciprocal trade law.

Speech Climaxes Rally "An informed and observant public would disapprove of anyone," he said, "who insisted on clinging to old ideas which cannot solve crucial new problems. But it would welcome and praise everyone in public or private life for changing his mind in the best interests of 173 million Americans."

The President's defense of his trade program, broadcast and telecast to the nation, climaxed a giant White House-sparked one-day rally at which former Democratic presidential candidate Adlai E. Stevenson, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and others plugged the trade program.

Speaker Sam Rayburn's speech stung high-tariff advocates to angry retort. Rayburn lashed out at "rich and powerful" businessmen who oppose the trade program. He called them "potentially more dangerous to us than Communists among us."

O. R. Strackbein, chairman of the National Committee on Export-Import Policy, a protectionist group that held a rival meeting here Thursday, accused Rayburn of a "shocking and intemperate outburst."

The President said that if supporters made their views known he was "confident that the country-wide support" of the program would be reflected in Congress.

Black Eye for Cuba

Though sometimes rebels can't be winners, they may make life so miserable for a ruling regime that it cannot cling indefinitely to power.

Something of this sort may be happening in Cuba. Fidel Castro, rebel leader, has so harassed Dictator Batista that the latter, trying to work off a case of jitters, has put off a June 1 election and suspended constitutional guarantees, including freedom of the press.

To some sources in America, this may be the beginning of the end for Batista. People are weary of terror, bloodshed, and arbitrary restrictions. Many seem to believe Batista has lost control of the situation entirely.

But Castro seems a doubtful replacement. He has broken with other anti-Batista forces and is displaying arrogant high spirits that suggest he might be as bad as Batista.

So he could prove to be the outsting lever, and no more.

Heluva Way to Run a Railroad

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Commissioner Lee was appointed to FCC as reward for helping Senator McCarthy. He participated in the Maryland campaign against Tydings; Lee's votes are political, not public-interest.

WASHINGTON. — One of the most interesting members of the Federal Communications Commission is Robert E. Lee, a Republican and no relation to the famed Civil War general, a Democrat. He was appointed to this key post in one of the most vital commissions in government as a reward for his help to Sen. Joe McCarthy in two pieces of backstage business which all good Republicans would now like to forget.

Lee's record shows that he has continued to operate backstage in the FCC as he did on behalf of Senator McCarthy. Sworn Senate records are available regarding much of his background.

Commissioner Lee has gone down the line for National Airlines, whose New York counsel, Roy Cohn, was also counsel for the McCarthy committee. Lee reversed himself on a TV station in Fresno, Calif., after Murray Chotiner, campaign manager for Vice President Nixon, got into the picture. He reversed himself on Channel 12 in Jacksonville, Fla., after the delightful and distinguished Monsignor Maurice Sheehy intervened in the case. Lee is of the same faith as the Monsignor. And Lee voted for Thomas Tinsley of Baltimore for a TV license in Petersburg, Va., after being entertained by Tinsley at the very time the Petersburg case was under consideration.

SECRET CODE TO MCCARTHY

This is part of the recent record. The early Lee record goes back to 1950 when Joe McCarthy had made the amazing charge that there were "203 card-carrying Communists" in the State Department "known to the Secretary of State," and then found he couldn't prove it. Lee came to his rescue at that time by giving McCarthy the list of 81 security-risk cases on file with the House Appropriations committee of which he was minority (Republican) clerk. The names were under lock and key and were referred to by case numbers, so that congressmen knew the numbers but not the names attached to the numbers. Lee supplied McCarthy with the secret code and the names.

Most of the list had already been fired from the State Department by the same Secretary of State (Dean Acheson) who, McCarthy charged, had been dilatory. Many of them were alcoholics, sex unfortunates, etc., and McCarthy was never able to find one Communist in the State Department. This was the subsequent testimony of McCarthy's friend, Scott McLeod, who became State Department security officer.

Having done this favor for McCarthy, Lee plunged into the Maryland 1950 campaign in which McCarthy was trying to defeat Sen. Millard E. Tydings, who had had the courage to challenge and investigate Joe's charges against the State Department.

MARYLAND CAMPAIGN

There ensued one of the dirtiest election campaigns in recent history, during which a Baltimore printer who balked at printing McCarthy literature was shanghaied, during which McCarthy collected thousands of dollars from Texas, Illinois and Michigan, and during which he circulated a faked photo of Tydings in friendly pose with Communist leader Earl Browder.

Commissioner Lee, who now sits on the FCC in alleged impartial judgment on TV licenses, was in the thick of this campaign. His job, according to sworn Senate testimony, was to pick up checks in Baltimore, deposit them in his wife's account in the National Capital bank in Washington, and then pay for addressing 300,000 post cards.

As a result, a large part of Maryland woke up two days before election with what they thought was a personal handwritten card from the Republican candidate, reading: "I shall be deeply grateful for your vote on Tuesday—John Marshall Butler."

Among the checks deposited to Lee's wife's account were those of Alvin Bentley, now congressman from Michigan, grandson of a founder of General Motors, for $5,000; and from Douglas B. Marshall, son-in-law of Texas oil millionaire H. R. Cullen, for $500. It is clearly against Maryland law to handle funds in the name of a political candidate unless you register for such purpose. When the scandals of the Maryland campaign were thoroughly investigated by the Senate, however, one man, Jon Jonkel, was made the goat. He pleaded guilty to violating the election laws. Others who, according to Senate testimony likewise appeared guilty, escaped action.

R. E. Lee not only escaped action but was rewarded by appointment to one of the most important commissions in government. When he came up for confirmation, the Senate had before it the record of its own Maryland investigation. But aside from a handful of senators led by Monroney of Oklahoma and Hennings of Missouri, no one opposed him.

The big networks, anxious to have a friend on the FCC, actually lobbied for his confirmation. Earl Gammons, vice president of CBS, buttonholed, among others, Sen. George Smathers of Florida, a key member of the Senate Interstate Commerce committee which had to pass on Lee. Smathers voted for him.

After his appointment was confirmed, Lee did not disappoint those who helped him. He voted to give more stations to the big networks; voted against the small UHF stations on "de-interference"; voted for Colonel Hobby, husband of the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, on a shocking TV award in Beaumont, Texas; voted for Senator Dirksen's law firm in Peoria, Ill., after a member of the firm, Charles Caley, had approached him.

Such is part of the record of the FCC commissioner who frequently sits in New York's Stork Club enjoying the company of Roy Cohn, New York attorney for National Airlines, and who voted to have National get Channel 10 in Miami.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D. (Written for NEA Service)

The week of Jesus' Passion began with His riding on a humble beast of burden. He was surrounded by multitudes of men and women who cried "Hosanna to the son of David. Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord." His triumph may have lingered in the hearts of men, but the physical presence of His followers melted with the political turn of events.

As we enter this holy period of the year we celebrate Palm Sunday. We proclaim again our belief in the Saviour but even as we take up our worldly tasks of the week we frequently push Jesus from our thinking. We allow the political, social and economic events to stand foremost in our lives.

Let us pray on Palm Sunday that we may not desert Christ during the days of Holy Week.

"NOTHING IS IMPOSSIBLE"

During recent years many new medical treatments have been perfected. Some of the diseases that have plagued mankind for ages have been conquered.

There are still more to be overcome, but in due time they, too, will be mastered. So many research physicians, scientists and chemists are devoting their lives to this work that truly no disease will eventually be impossible to cure.

We are glad that it is our privilege to share in this important work by supplying the medicines that fight disease.

Missionaries from South Rhodesia Visiting Miss Bernice Patterson

Dr. and Mrs. Edward J. Aeschliman, missionaries from Umtali Southern Rhodesia, are in Harrisburg visiting Mrs. Aeschliman's sister, Miss Bernice Patterson.

In Umtali since 1952, Dr. Aeschliman has been teaching in the Methodist Seminary, directing the construction of a new education center, and raising funds for enlarging the Hilltop Methodist church. Mrs. Aeschliman has done significant work in the children's department and in the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Before going to Southern Rhodesia, the Aeschlimans were missionaries in China for thirty years. Mr. Aeschliman went to China from Asbury Methodist church in Rochester, New York, where he was the assistant minister. That church has continuously supported his work.

Following their visit in Harrisburg, the Aeschlimans will go to California to be with their two daughters and three small grandsons. Their youngest daughter is a pediatrician in Rochester.

On Monday night, March 31, the Kupples Klass of the First Methodist church is honoring the Aeschlimans at a fellowship dinner in Wesley Center. Members of the class are inviting friends in the community and in the church to attend the dinner and to meet the Aeschlimans, who will probably show pictures and speak about their work in Africa. This will be a carry-in dinner, at 6 p. m. and each family is asked to bring a covered dish.

The importance of civil defense organizations was stressed by Dr. Frank Bridges of the Health Education Department, Southern Illinois University, who is civil defense director for Southern Illinois, at a meeting held at Equality Monday night under sponsorship of the Equality Tuesday Club.

In explaining the organization and the laws pertaining to civil defense, Dr. Bridges revealed that each county is authorized to have a civil defense organization and also those cities and villages with populations of more than 1,000.

He stated that even though we are not near an industrial area we are still in danger from Fall Out and also in case of a nearby city being struck this area probably would be called on to take care of refugees. Preparing for such emergencies is part of the civil defense organizations work.

The speaker urged that first aid courses be stressed in order that more people may be able to help with the injured in case of emergency.

The civil defense organization also has taken on the responsibility of being on the lookout for severe storms and tornadoes, the director stated. A communications system has been set up in order that all areas will have access to these warnings. The sheriff is the first to be notified in the county and he in turn gets the word to the county superintendent of schools. Observers who see signs of storms or tornadoes report immediately to ham radio operators, or TV or radio stations. A warning of severe storms is given when weather is conducive to storms, and everyone is advised to be on the lookout. A tornado warning is given when one has been sighted in the area.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says—"it's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

GOD'S WAY AND MAN'S SUBSTITUTION
COL. 3:17

We notice something else that man has substituted his will for God's. That is the kind of baptism that is to be administered. God's plan is that it be a burial. (Rom. 6:3-4). We notice the Lord again speaking through Paul saying it is a burial. (Col. 2:12). This is the way the Lord expects people to be baptized today.

Man's idea concerning baptism is certainly different from God's. Their idea is sprinkling and pouring. Where is the New Testament example of this baptism? This is not found in the plan of God.

We have a wonderful example of a man being buried with his Lord in baptism. (Acts 8:36-40). Both Phillip and the eunuch went down into the water; and he baptized him. And when they were come up out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phillip. This is the action for baptism that must be practiced today.

Have you been buried with your Lord in baptism? If not, then why not study the word of God and see if this isn't true? Then resolve that you want to obey the commandments of God instead of the ideas of men.

Mrs. Ray Altmire Discusses Civil Defense at CMCHS

Mrs. Ray Altmire, Harrisburg, wife of the Saline county director of Civil Defense, spoke at noon Monday at the Carrier Mills Community high school concerning civil defense.

She described the emergency warning system to be used in case of storms or enemy attacks, and outlined some desirable preparations that can be made by a family to take care of themselves in case of emergency.

It was Future Home Makers Week and special emphasis was given the need to have on hand at all times food necessary to feed the family. "Grandma's Pantry" was the title given this preparatory step, which was likened to the supplies laid in by pioneers as they went in covered wagons from one part of the country to another.

In cooperation with the Civil Defense Starkey's Market in Carrier Mills had set up a "Grandma's Pantry" exhibit, with foods suggested for maintenance during an emergency, and these were named by the speaker, who grew up in Carrier Mills and attended the public schools there.

"What protects money deposited at your bank?"

First of all (and we're proud to repeat what others have expressed), sound management—which is reflected in our careful lending policies. The safety of depositors' funds is our first concern in considering any loan. Then, deposits here are insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to the maximum of $10,000 for each depositor. The insurance costs depositors nothing. These, as well as physical safeguards, add up to the kind of protection that most people seek. We'll welcome your account!

Credit Life Insurance is available on our loans which pay loan off in the event of your death; also disability which pays your installments while you are disabled.

Att'y Jack Morris Is GOP Candidate For County Judge

Att'y Jack C. Morris

Att'y Jack C. Morris is formally announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Saline county judge in the April 8 primary.

Mr. Morris, a native of Eldorado, attended elementary and high school there. His college education was interrupted twice by his enlistment in the armed forces of this country.

He attended Vanderbilt University at Nashville, Tenn., for one year, quitting in 1944 to enlist in the U. S. Navy and spending two years in service. Upon discharge he entered Columbia University in New York City graduating in 1949 with a Bachelor's degree.

He then entered law school at George Washington University, Washington, D. C., when then about half way through his law course was called to active duty in the U. S. Marine Corps. He spent 17 months in the service this time, seven of which were in Korea. He now is a captain in the U. S. Marine Corps reserve.

Mr. Morris returned to George Washington University and received his law degree in 1953. After practicing a short time in Harrisburg, he received an appointment to the U. S. District Attorney's office in East St. Louis, a post he held until July 1, 1957, when he returned to his home in Eldorado and re-entered private practice.

At present he is an assistant attorney general of the State of Illinois and is city attorney for the City of Eldorado.

He is the son of Noah and Ruby Nell Morris of Eldorado and a nephew of the late E. M. "Daddy" Morris, who for years was a teacher in Harrisburg. Mrs. Pearl Connett, widow of the Rev. O. E. Connett, is a sister of his mother and his grandfather was the late Rev. J. F. Brown, well known Methodist minister in Saline county.

He is married to the former Miss Barbara Carter, daughter of Mrs. Otis Carter and the late Otis Carter of the Carter Chickery and Farm at Eldorado. They have a daughter, Sarah Ann, 27 months old.

He is a member of the board of trustees of the First Methodist church in Eldorado, of the board of directors of the Eldorado Chamber of Commerce, and of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. He also is a member of the Saline County, the Illinois and the American Bar Associations.

Special Music for Easter Services at Williams Hill Tower

Plans are advancing for the annual outdoor Easter service to be held at Williams Hill Tower, four miles west of Herod, Ill. This service is sponsored by the American Sunday School Union, under the direction of Rev. James G. Johnson of Eldorado, the local missionary for this area.

The service is designed to avoid conflicting hours with other Christian services on Easter, thus, more people may enjoy the privilege of worshipping the risen Lord on the mountain top in the great outdoors, the highest point in southern Illinois. The hour selected for the service is 3:00 p. m. Easter Sunday, April 6.

Local southern Illinois talent will be used this year to furnish the special music. The Phelps brothers quartet of Eldorado will furnish the vocal numbers. These four brothers have endeared themselves to the hearts of the young and old alike, with their gospel singing. The instrumental music will be played by a brass trio from Metropolis. They are Bill Spencer, Craig Oliver and Guy Oaks. Members of the Christian youth fellowship of that city. Group singing will be led by Mr. Jack Kidd, a well known musician of Metropolis.

Individuals and churches are urged to keep this service in mind and make plans to make this one of the best outdoor Easter services ever held in this area. It is possible to park and remain in the car during the service, if so desired.

Mr. Johnson expresses his thanks to the many friends who have attended and helped in various ways in the past 13 years. He is looking forward to many more attending and assisting this year.

Popcorn Queen Coronation At April 12 Event

Some lucky girl with a flare for popping pops-rite, will be Popcorn Queen for a day on April 12.

Just as the popcorn farmer will be king for the day she will reign over National Popcorn Farmers' Day festivities, April 12, at Popcorn Village, Ridgway, home of pops-rite popcorn.

And like all queens, she can be choosy about her gifts as winner of the Popcorn Queen for a day contest, a highlight of the celebration originated by Jim Blevins, president of Blevins Popcorn Company, to pay tribute to the farmers for their contributions to the industry.

She can have her choice of a one-way, or round-trip ticket to the moon on the first space ship flight.

Or she can have a ladies' 21 level Helibros watch containing two diamonds, with an expansion bracelet and other gifts to be announced.

She will also receive gifts from Jack Bailey, star of the NBC television show, Queen For A Day, known as the number one day time show.

Entrants will be from high schools in southern Illinois and Indiana. Schools are asked to mail on or before April 1, the names of their contestants to Popcorn Village, Ridgway, Ill.

The queen will be chosen in a corn popping contest to be judged ing will be led by Mr. Jack Kidd, a well known musician of Metropolis.

Individuals and churches are urged to keep this service in mind and make plans to make this one of the best outdoor Easter services ever held in this area. It is possible to park and remain in the car during the service, if so desired.

Mr. Johnson expresses his thanks to the many friends who have attended and helped in various ways in the past 13 years. He is looking forward to many more attending and assisting this year.

SIU Asks Bids On First Stage of Student, Staff Housing Program

CARBONDALE, Ill. 38—Southern Illinois University has advertised for construction bids on the first stage of a three million dollar student and staff housing program.

Bids on a 10-unit family apartment development will be opened April 29 at SIU. University architect Charles Pulley said bid advertisements for 15 small residence halls to house 675 single students will go out sometime next month.

The projects will be financed by a loan from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Shallow Lake Bolivia's great salt lake, Lake Poopo, at an elevation of 12,000 feet, has no known outlet, is less than 15 feet deep, but covers 1,000 square miles.

on the official volume tester at Blevins' Popcorn Village plant. Each girl will pop a 10-ounce can of Pops Rite, and the greatest volume obtained determines the queen.

She will be crowned with an elaborate Pops Rite decorated headdress by Ridgway Mayor Tyler Gauen in appropriate ceremonies at 4:45 p. m.

Condon Says H-Tests Will Cause Thousands to Die

ST. LOUIS — "Many thousands" of persons will suffer agonizing death from bone cancer and leukemia as a result of poison produced by hydrogen bomb tests, Dr. Edward U. Condon predicted today.

Condon, head of Washington University's physics department, addressed the National Association of Women Deans and Counselors convention. He chose as his topic: "What Is This New World?" and answered that question grimly.

"Terrible inequalities exist and many of our social institutions are largely engaged in efforts to maintain them," he said. "Their existence in turn is the principal cause of the frustrations and perversions of human aspirations which lead in infants to bad behavior, in adolescents to juvenile delinquency, in adults to crime and in nations to war."

Condon said that hydrogen bombs now available have an explosive power of 15 million tons of TNT, and added that one such hydrogen bomb is equivalent to more than five times all the bombs used in Europe during the duration of World War II.

"These weapons are so large and produce such vast quantities of radioactive poison that such poisons have now been found in the bones of people, especially growing children, all over the world. It is no exaggeration to say that many thousands of persons in the world will suffer agonizing death from bone cancer and leukemia as a result of the poison put into the earth's atmosphere by hydrogen bomb tests that we have already conducted."

Search for Missing Boy

FARGO, N. D. (UP) — Authorities today planned to drag the Red River for missing 2-year-old Karl Nelson, object of a fruitless search by about 1,000 volunteers from Minnesota and North Dakota.

The little boy disappeared Thursday morning while playing with his brother, Eric, 4, and two other friends. Eric later returned home alone and the boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Nelson, notified authorities.

Police believed Karl might have attempted to cross the thin covering of ice on the Red River near the Nelson home to get to Moorhead, Minn., on the other side.

Thursday night, about 1,000 Boy Scouts, policemen, college students, firemen and others from Fargo and Moorhead combed wilderness sections along the river banks and the downtown and residential areas of both cities.

Trooper Cleared In Fatal Shooting At Roadblock

PADUCAH, Ky. (UP) — A man slaughter charge brought against Missouri State Trooper Vernon Hopkins in connection with the fatal shooting of a young woman at a roadblock was dismissed by McCracken County Judge Roy Stewart here.

The shooting occurred last Feb. 3 when a car in which Jewell English, 23, Paducah, was riding, drove away from a roadblock manned by Trooper Hopkins. The roadblock in nearby Graves county had been set up in the search for gunman Carl Burton.

Forrest McAllister, 29, a Fulton, Ky., insurance man who is also charged with voluntary manslaughter in the shooting of Miss English, was ordered held under $1,000 bond for the grand jury.

Hopkins had testified he fired a shotgun blast at the car. McAllister had admitted firing the rifle shots. A coroner's jury on Feb. 7 said that Miss English was killed by "one or more large calibre bullets."

After the ruling, Hopkins smiled as he left the court with his wife. Defense attorneys have filed motions asking that charges against both Hopkins and McAllister be dropped.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Among the 70 major industrial areas now designated by the Labor Department as having "substantial" unemployment of 6 per cent or more are:

Illinois: Joliet, Peoria.
Indiana: Evansville, Fort Wayne, Indianapolis, South Bend, Terre Haute.
Missouri: Kansas City, St. Louis.
Wisconsin: Kenosha, Racine.

Reuther Gains Support in Plea For Kohler Study

WASHINGTON (UP) — Walter P. Reuther picked up some congressional support today for his proposal that a presidential fact-finding board study the issues in the 4-year-old Kohler strike.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) vice chairman of the Senate Rackets Committee, told reporters he might introduce legislation authorizing President Eisenhower to appoint a board of inquiry.

He said a state board plan in effect in New York since 1941 has had "tremendous results." Although the President probably already has authority to set up such a board, Ives said, some legislative support might be useful.

Reuther, quick-thinking, fast-talking president of the United Auto Workers, made the proposal during his appearance before the Rackets Committee Thursday.

Reuther said he ordinarily opposed government intervention in labor disputes but felt the UAW's long strike against the Kohler Co. had reached the point where some federal assistance was required. "We've tried everything else," he said.

He said the Kohler, Wis., firm has declined to arbitrate the issue and that public opinion could be brought into play through a fact-finding panel. He suggested it be composed of "three outstanding Americans who have no axe to grind."

The White House declined to comment on the proposal but administration officials said there is no law covering such a situation. They said it could not be done without a request from both sides.

A Labor Department spokesman said Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell already has offered to act as an arbitrator if both sides request it.

Strict Probation Ordered for Eight Teen-Agers

JONESBORO, Ill. (UP) — Eight Union County teen-agers got a choice from a judge Thursday—reform school or strict one-year probation. The boys chose the probation.

The boys, from Anna and Jonesboro, had admitted a rash of home, auto and business break-ins over a period of months.

County Judge Paul Reese first named four ministers as the boys' probation officers.

He also said the boys must work to earn money to pay all court costs and make restitution for the articles taken in the break-ins.

Then, when school is out in May, they must report to the Union County jailer to spend 72 hours behind bars. They will eat jailhouse food and read literature provided by the ministers.

The judge also ordered the boys to take a trip to Menard State Prison with the sheriff. They will tour the prison to observe the accommodations there.

W. C. Handy, Father of The Blues, Dies at 84

NEW YORK (UP) — William Christopher Handy, the father of the blues, died today at the age of 84.

Handy entered the hospital last week with pneumonia. He had been in a coma at one time but was reported "very greatly improved" in the last two days.

The Negro, whose wailing trumpet transformed the work chants of his people to what has become one of the nation's most notable music forms, died in the midst of a year-long celebration in his honor.

A motion picture of his life, bearing the title of his best-known composition—"St. Louis Blues"—is shortly to be released. His blues compositions, dating from a 1909 political campaign song, are to be featured in a full-dress Carnegie Hall concert next month.

Handy, blind for the last 17 years and confined to a wheelchair as a result of a stroke two years ago, was honored guest at an 84th birthday party thrown for him last November by the music industry. His birthday year was to have been climaxed by an 85th anniversary celebration in Hollywood.

ICC Authorizes Rail Freight Hikes Within State

CHICAGO (UP) — The Illinois Commerce Commission has authorized railroads to increase freight rates within the state by about 2 per cent on 30 days notice.

The commission decision, announced today, was on a petition by the carriers to bring rates within the state up to those approved by the federal Interstate Commerce Commission Feb. 11, 1958.

The rate increases average out to 2 per cent according to an ICC spokesman.

Some items were granted greater increases in accordance with the federal ruling.

Among the items affected by the increase were agricultural goods which were covered by a general 3 per cent increase with a maximum of 5 cents per hundredweight on cattle and a 2 per cent restriction on grain.

Bulk materials such as sand, gravel and slag were covered by a 3 per cent increase with a maximum hike of 12 cents per ton. A 10 cent a ton limit was set on coal.

Margaret's Trip Puts Off Meetings With Townsend

LONDON (UP) — A suddenly publicity-shy Princess Margaret flew to Germany today on a trip that put off any further meetings with Peter Townsend and delayed an expected royal reprimand from her sister the Queen.

Margaret, apparently sulking over the publicity that pushed her sister and her royal tour of Holland right off the front pages, glared at a crowd of newsmen and photographers keeping vigil outside her home.

And as she departed to visit British troops in Germany, Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrived at Dover aboard the royal yacht Britannia. They were all smiles.

Tax Specialist Urges Citizens to Attend Annual Town Meetings

Illinois citizens — faced with a whopping all-time high 1958 property tax bill of one billion dollars — have their one opportunity to do something about part of that burden in a direct way on Tuesday April 1.

On that date, annual town meetings are held in townships throughout the state. Bert Van derVliet, tax economist for the Illinois Agricultural Association reminded citizens today. Most start at 2 p. m.

"You have the chance to control your 1958 township tax levies by attending your town meeting and taking an active part in government at the local level," the Illinois Farm Bureau tax specialist said.

More attendance is not enough, however, warned Van derVliet. Effective participation in a town meeting may require the reconciliation of highly controversial proposals submitted by the town board of auditors who prepare the tentative township budget and appropriation ordinance.

Tax levies adopted at the 1,433 town meetings will determine the total amount of 1958 tax bills as far as township government is concerned. This load will be payable in 1959.

As the town meeting is the only place where voters assemble to discuss and to act on their township levies, the group actually present is the one that may control township tax levies rather than the elected town officers.

Plan Moves to Learn If Khrushchev in Premier Post Will Break Summit Impasse

WASHINGTON (UP) — The United States and its Allies today planned early moves to find out if Nikita Khrushchev's move into the Soviet premiership signals any new chance to break the East-West impasse over a summit parley.

Meanwhile the United States anticipated some word from Moscow that the Russians are ready to halt nuclear tests or nuclear weapons production without an international agreement.

U. S. officials said any one-way Soviet action in the nuclear field would be a "clever propaganda play," perhaps coming at the conclusion of a long series of Soviet tests and about the time the United States is about to begin fresh nuclear tests in the Pacific.

Officials said any solo Soviet action on testing or weapon production would be of little value in the absence of an inspection system. However Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), chairman of the Senate disarmament subcommittee, said such a Soviet announcement would have "tremendous" propaganda value to the Kremlin.

Aside from possible nuclear strategy moves the big question in Washington today was how Khrushchev will use his combined

Communist Party and government roles now that he has ousted Nikolai Bulganin from the premiership.

There is little belief in Western circles Bulganin's removal will mean any major shift in Soviet policy. Khrushchev has long been considered the man calling the signals from his post as Communist boss. U. S. Senate Democratic whip Mike Mansfield expressed the general view that the only difference "is that the guy who used to dictate the letters is now signing them."

However, there is some apprehension Khrushchev might one day undertake some rash action if he let dictatorial power on the Stalin pattern go to his head.

NEW HOUSEPOWER CONTEST $100,000 IN PRIZES

CAPTION THIS CARTOON

CONTEST CLOSING APRIL 30

READ THESE FACTS... IMPROVE YOUR HOME... WIN WONDERFUL PRIZES

Today, 4 out of 5 homes have low HOUSEPOWER (not enough electrical wiring, outlets and switches). See cartoon. This home is obviously one of the 4. If the man can find an outlet to plug that TV cord into, he's certainly going to see one or more of the symptoms of low HOUSEPOWER. His TV picture may shrink and wiggle when that coffee maker starts; the lights may dim. The coffee maker will be slow heating up. And no wonder the Mrs. looks bewildered at the maze of "Octopus plugs"—a sure sign of low HOUSEPOWER. For full HOUSEPOWER all they'd have to do is call their electrical contractor or electric company for a "HOUSEPOWER Rating." The electrical contractor can do the job quickly, neatly, economically. And full HOUSEPOWER will increase the value of their home.

The Harrisburg baseball team that was known as the VFW baseball team last year, will meet Sunday at 1 p. m. at the VFW Memorial Field.

Last year's team had a very successful season, with a 26 win and 10 loss record. The team ended in second place in the Oil Belt League, and then won first place in the league play-off games, winning three straight.

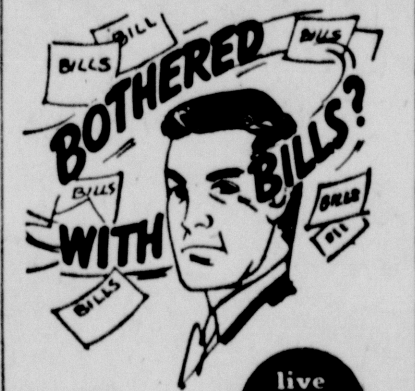

If the ground dries, a short practice session will be held. All players from last season's team and any new player who wishes to try out are invited.

Score Is Blazing Fast in 4-Inning Stint; May Be Indians' Opening Day Hurler

Herb Score still complains about his sprained ankle but it's nothing compared to the way rival hitters are complaining about his blinding speed.

The Cleveland Indians' strikeout king—sidelined most of last season with an injured eye and hurt in the opening week of spring training this year—turned in an overpowering performance Thursday as the Indians defeated the Chicago Cubs, 13-7. Camp observers promptly predicted that the 200-pound left-hander will be the Indians' opening-day pitcher.

It was a free-hitting game but the Cubs did all their hitting after Score left the mound. During his four innings on the firing line, Herb whiffed five batters and didn't allow a hit. In 10 innings of Grapefruit League hurling, he's allowed seven hits and struck out 10 batters.

Jack Sanford of the Philadelphia Phillies, Brooks Lawrence of the Cincinnati Redlegs and Chuck Stobbs of the Washington Senators also made bids for opening day assignments with strong pitching efforts.

Sanford, rookie of the year in the National League as a 19-game winner last season, yielded two runs in seven innings as the Phillies beat the Chicago White Sox, 6-2. Harry Anderson and Stan Lopata hit homers for the Phillies off 16-game winner Dick Donovan but Bob Keegan blanked the National Leaguers for the last five frames.

Lawrence allowed one run and three hits as he also went seven innings in the Redlegs' 9-1 romp over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Yanks Rally
Stobbs, 8-10 last year, was touched for a homer by Don Blasingame and only one other hit in six innings in the Washington Senators' 2-1 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals.

Hawks, Celtics Open Pro Cage Series Saturday

ST. LOUIS —Alex Hannum and his St. Louis Hawks get another shot at the defending National Basketball Assn. champion Boston Celtics in the pro-circuit's four best of seven world series opening Saturday at Boston.

While the Celtics were disposing of the Philadelphia Warriors Thursday night, 93-88, the Hawks were cleaning up their preliminary playoff business here with the Detroit Pistons in a lopsided 120-96 verdict. Both Boston and St. Louis won four games while dropping one in the semifinal sets.

The Hawks and the Celts, winners of the Western and Eastern division titles respectively during the regular campaign this season and last, put on a terrific show a year ago before Red Auerbach's Celtics won out, four games to three, capturing the last game in overtime.

There were 7,601 Kiel Auditorium spectators at the St. Louis-Detroit finale, and they saw the Hawks coast into the finals on the marksmanship of Cliff Hagan.

Handsome Hagan, a second year man in the pro ranks and formerly of Kentucky University, easily was the outstanding performer in the series. He swished the nets for 32 points Thursday night, 26 of the markers coming in the second half as the Hawks added to a 49-42 halftime edge.

Hagan's offensive output gave him a total of 154 points for the five playoff games, or a 30.8 per cent. George Yardley's 111 points for Detroit and a 22.2 average ranked second. Teammate Bob Pettit and Piston Gene Shue each had 90 points in the series, or 18 per game. Pettit had 20 in the windup game, Shue 11.

Eagles Ask End of Age Job Discrimination

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A strong case for legislation to ban discrimination because of age in hiring of persons by Government contractors is being made by Fraternal Order of Eagles. Petitions signed by 671,328 persons and circulated by members of the Fraternal Order of Eagles have been presented to Senators and Representatives interested in the organization's "Jobs over 40" campaign now before Congress.

Petitions from each of the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii and the District of Columbia have been presented to legislators by Judge Robert W. Hansen of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, national program District Chairman of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The national organization, which was instrumental in the drive for passage of old age pension laws in the 1920's and the Social Security Act in the 1930's, has undertaken a campaign to eliminate age discrimination in employment as "an unwarranted practice which is depriving thousands of physically sound, skilled and experienced workers of the means of a livelihood," Hansen said.

"This is a tragic waste of manpower in the American economy," he added.

Judge Hansen said need for abolishing job restrictions against persons over 40 is reflected in a report of the U. S. Employment Service showing that more than half of all employment openings specify upper-age limitations. The Eagles' "Jobs After 40" campaign, Hansen said, was started as "a resolute affirmation of the right of every person, regardless of his or her age, to equal opportunity in employment."

Efforts of the Eagles to obtain enactment of legislation to wipe out age barriers center around bills introduced in the Senate by Senators Richard L. Neuberger (D) of Oregon and Jacob Javits (R) of New York and a group of co-sponsors.

The Ganges River plays a triple role in the lives of countless millions of people in India. To the Hindus, the river is one of the most sacred in all India, and they make long pilgrimages in order to bathe in its waters. The Ganges is also an important artery of trade and its 400,000-square-mile valley is one of the most productive areas of southern Asia.

ALL TIED UP—Miss Saline County (Georgianne Tanner) seems to be getting Mayor Claud Gibbons all tied up in her work as she tries to get him into proper cowboy attire for Monday night's Western stage show to be presented by the VFW at Bonnell gym.
